GIVE US THE BASICS — WE'LL TAKE IT FROM THERE

Life Quick Request can help you sell more term life insurance, with fewer complications. You gather the basic client data, then hand it off to Genworth's fulfillment service. They'll contact your client, finish the paperwork and schedule the exam. You just need to deliver the policy. You get all this, plus full commission rates.

YOU DO ONE THING ...

1. Complete a "ticket". Your firm will tell you whether to use our web-based tool or a brief form.

The ticket has basic client contact information — name, address and phone number. And there are a few insurance questions — level premium period (10, 20 or 30 years), beneficiary, reason for insurance, nicotine use, billing frequency and, if policies are being replaced, information about the existing policies.

GENWORTH FULFILLMENT DOES THE REST ...

1. Contacts the applicant to get all the details — your client can voice-sign the authorizations needed
2. Sends the data directly to policy processing systems — minimizes errors and speeds up processing
3. Schedules the paramed exam
4. Orders any underwriting requirements
5. E-mails you on the case's status

With faster processing and an improved client experience, Genworth's Life Quick Request will help you place more cases with less work.
